PREFACE

Over the years a strong Science & Technology infrastructure has been established in the country. This covers a chain of National Laboratories, specialised research centres, various R&D and academic institutions, training centres, and others. Various policy measures and organisational structures have also been evolved from time to time to meet the changing industrial and technological requirements of the country.

Government has been giving special attention to promotion and support to industrial research in industry. Providing equity and loans to public sector undertakings has resulted in their establishing In-house R&D Units. Simultaneously, several fiscal incentives and other support measures have also been provided which encourage and make it financially attractive for private sector industrial units to establish their own In-house R&D Units.

A scheme for granting recognition to In-house R&D Units in industrial sector was started in 1973. The scheme is being operated by the Department of Scientific & Industrial Research (DSIR) in the Ministry of Science and Technology. As on 1 October 1995, there are 1239 In-house R&D Units having valid recognition; of these nearly 1070 are in private sector, 135 in public sector and the remaining in joint sector.

A Directory of Recognised In-house R&D Units was first brought out in December 1983; revised and updated versions were brought out in February 1985, November 1986, December 1987, December 1988, August 1989, August 1990, September 1991, September 1992, October 1993 and October 1994. Since then a number of new R&D Units have been recognised as also recognition granted to some units has lapsed. The present edition of the Directory lists 1239 In-house R&D units, giving their registration number, name and mailing address of the company, location of the In-house R&D Unit(s), and validity of recognition.

The main purpose of bringing out this Directory is to provide a reference source for various industries, Government Departments, R&D Institutions and others who may like to take the opportunity of initiating interaction with the In-house R&D Units in various disciplines of industrial R&D.

The publication is compiled by Shri Gurmit Singh, Section Officer, Shri Kuldip Rai and Shri K.V.S.P. Rao, Principal Scientific Officers under the overall guidance of Dr. V.V. Subba Rao, Adviser, DSIR.
